

TMOD Role

Absolutely! Here's a simple yet impactful TMOD (Toastmaster of the Day) script that flows naturally, helps you stay confident, and keeps the audience engaged:

TMOD Script

1. Acknowledging the Presiding officer

Thank you so much Presiding officer madam toastmaster Rowan, for that uplifting introduction.

Good afternoon, everyone! I'm excited to be your Toastmaster of the Day.

Today's meeting is all about introducing by breaking ice, sharing, learning and connecting.

2. Brief Role of TMOD

As the Toastmaster of the Day, my role is to guide you through the meeting, introduce the speakers, role players, and ensure everything flows smoothly.

3. Introducing the Theme

The theme for today's meeting is "Leapfrogging Time."

What comes to your mind when you hear that?

Hold on to that thought. Before we dive into the theme, I'd like to share two short anecdotes. After that, we'll reflect on them together and see how they connect to our theme.

[Anecdote 1]

[Anecdote 2]

When I reflected on both situations, I realized something important.

In my case, had I taken a pause, taken a deep breath, and responded with calm and thoughtful reasoning, things might have turned out differently. But if you notice, both DTM Ron and my brother-in-law responded almost instantly — and effectively — without any deliberate thinking.

I'm sure you've had similar moments where later you thought, "If only I had paused and thought, I could've responded better."

So how do we reach a stage where we can respond automatically and effectively — just like Ron and my brother-in-law did — but without overthinking?

The answer lies in experience. Over time, our brain builds patterns from repeated learning, and those patterns help us respond wisely and quickly in similar situations.

In short, we need to think and act like our future selves — today.

And that's what "Leapfrogging Time" is all about.

As the meeting progresses, I'll share a simple three-step framework on how we can leapfrog time and step into our better, future selves.

For now, let's jump into today's exciting meeting agenda!

Introduction of Meeting Structure:

Firstly, we have the Prepared Speech Round, where members will be delivering speeches based on the project described toastmaster manual ie pathways.

Next, we move on to the Table Topics Round, also known as the Impromptu Speech section, where members hone their ability to think and speak on their feet.

Lastly, we conclude with the Evaluation Round, where all aspects of the session, including the prepared speeches, are meticulously evaluated by the General Evaluator and their team.

4. Introducing the TAG Team

As Toastmaster of the Day, it is my honor to introduce the individuals who will be instrumental in ensuring the smooth running of today's session.

To keep track of time for each speaker, we have our Timer of the day, Toastmaster ____.

Responsible for maintaining the quality of language usage, we have the Grammarian of the Day, Toastmaster ____.

And to help us eliminate filler words and hesitations, we have the Ah-Counter of the Day, Toastmaster ____.

Timer	Anupradha
Ah Counter	Praveen
Grammarian	Nasreen
Quiz Master	Subhendu

5. Prepared Speeches

Now comes the most exciting part – the Prepared Speeches!

We have 4 speakers today who will be demonstrating their preparation through excellence.

Before Calling 1st icebreaker speaker I would call speech evaluator, who will be enlighten us about project details and project objective. For that please help me with aloud TM Solomon.

Let's give a warm round of applause to Toastmaster Krishna

“Better to BEST” – doesn’t that title already spark curiosity and inspiration?

Today, we have a very special guest delivering a motivational session aimed at helping us all build greater confidence in speech preparation and presentation.

He has been a dedicated Toastmaster since 2002, and has served as a Gavel Club Coordinator for over 15 years in Qatar, mentoring and guiding countless young minds.

A passionate speaker, a committed mentor, and now a proud member of District 120 in Chennai, he continues to inspire Toastmasters across regions.

Please join me in warmly welcoming
Toastmaster Sundaresan Subramanian for his educational session – “Better to BEST”!

Over to you, TM Sundaresan!

6. Table Topics Session

Now most fun and exciting session of the entire meeting ie table topic session, for that I would like to invite young and energetic toastmaster. Please help me to welcome with load round of applause TM Prasad

8. Before Closing

Concluding Theme:

Thank you to all our speakers, role players, and guests.

Every contribution made today’s meeting truly meaningful.

A special thanks to GE TM Kartik and Educator TM Sundaresan

9. Closing the Meeting

Communication is a skill that grows with practice – and today, we all took one step forward.

With that, I now hand over the control back to our Presiding Officer Toastmaster.

Thank you, and over to you, Rowan.
